

Understanding your living and care costs

Fees and charges

Aeralife Twin Parks

Making it easier for you

aeralife.com.au

We understand when you enter residential aged care for the first time it can be an emotionally difficult period for you and your family. However, it is extremely important that you understand the cost of residential aged care.

There is a lot of information to be absorbed and it can sometimes be overwhelming. Therefore, this booklet is designed to help you familiarise yourself with the various terms used and the fees and charges associated with residential aged care.

1. Basic daily fee

The basic daily fee is payable by all residents. It is currently $63.57 per day and is indexed by the Commonwealth government each March and September.

2. Additional services

Your Advantage Package

All our care recipients benefit from Additional Services, a range of goods and services which are provided at an affordable rate in addition to the standard services provided by all aged care providers. Our additional services vary at each Aeralife residence. Please see the daily fees below. Refer to the individual brochure or your agreement for additional details.

Twin Parks	Daily Fee
Package value (GST inclusive)	$62.00
Package standard	$25.00
Package respite	$25.00
Package concessional	$10.00

3. Means tested care fee

Residents (other than respite residents) may be asked to pay a means tested care fee depending on their income and assets. The Government sets the amount a resident must pay (based on both your income and assets direct to the aged care provider) and reduces the care subsidies paid to the Provider by the same amount.

The means tested care fee is reviewed each quarter by the Commonwealth, based on income and asset information held by Centrelink or Veterans' Affairs. However, this fee is capped at the means-tested amount or the cost of your care, or the annum cap, whichever is the lesser. The fee is subjected to a lifetime cap.

For your means tested care fee to be calculated correctly, please complete a Residential Aged Care Calculation of your cost of care form (SA457), available from Services Australia or the Aeralife website. It is not compulsory to complete this form, but if you do not you may be asked to pay the full cost of your care.

You will be advised of the correct means tested care fee by the government shortly after your admission.

If we do not have sufficient information at admission to confirm your assessed Means Tested Care Fee, we may charge the maximum applicable fee or an agreed estimated fee per day in the interim. Once Services Australia completes the means assessment, we will adjust your fees account to ensure you have paid the correct amount.

Financial planning for aged care

Accommodation payment options

We encourage potential residents or their families to contact us to discuss their situation. Residents can choose to make their accommodation payment in one of three ways:

a) Refundable Accommodation Deposit (RAD).

You can pay the room price in full as a lump sum amount. This amount is held by the home for the duration of your residency, and is fully refundable to you when you leave, unless you choose to have any of your fees and charges deducted from the RAD.

b) Daily Accommodation Payment (DAP).

You can choose to not pay the lump sum amount, but have a daily interest equivalent amount added to your monthly fees. Please see the above table for examples of this payment method.

c) Combination of RAD and DAP.

If you have less than the full accommodation payment in spare assets you could still pay the room price by choosing a combination payment by paying a portion as a RAD lump sum amount, and the remaining balance as a DAP equivalent. Please see the above table for examples of this payment method.

RAD drawdown

We may allow you to pay the DAP as an additional fee each month, or to have it deducted from a RAD lump sum if you are making a combination payment. If deducted from the lump sum, this will reduce the RAD refund paid to you or to your estate. If the DAP or other fees are deducted from the RAD lump sum, you will be levied an additional interest charge. Please see the above table for examples of this payment method.

Any Accommodation Payment is due at the date of admission. If you choose to pay the RAD after admission, you will be charged interest on any unpaid amount. The Maximum Permissible Interest Rate (MPIR) is currently 8.38% per annum.

The DAP is calculated using the same interest rate.

However, you choose to pay for your accommodation, it is advisable to obtain independent financial advice before making a final decision.

Supported or low means residents

If your combined income and assets are below the current limits specified by the Commonwealth, your accommodation payment might be supplemented by the Commonwealth government, either in full or partly. The correct amount is calculated according to a government formula and is reviewed quarterly.

This amount is called an Accommodation Contribution. It is possible that this amount may be more than the advertised room rate.

If we do not have sufficient information at admission to determine your accommodation supported or low means status, we may charge applicable DAP per day in the interim.

Monthly statements & payment methods

Regular statements

Statements are issued early each month and relate to the full month.

Direct Debit transfer

Direct debit is our preferred method of payment, and it is processed mid-month (7 days from invoice date) from the nominated account, which is normally the one the pension is paid into.

Other payment methods

We accept bank transfers and payments by cheque for RAD payments. We do not provide credit card or BPAY payment facilities.
